

Says WILL ROGERS

BEVERLY HILLS.—Well all I know is just what I read in the papers. And about all you read is a Murder, A Robbery, Another Murder, Another Robbery. Then a train hits a loaded Auto. (They never hit em till they are loaded.) That's why more people than are not killed by a train is because there is so few really loaded Autos. An Englishman is certain that way, he won't hit a car with only one or two in it, he watches close and always calls his shots and gets a covey of em.

Then in between these above mentioned Columns in the Newspapers there will be a fellow in the home town that has just killed his wife and attempted to kill himself. That brings up another odd coincidence. Why is it that an attempted suicide that is going to kill somebody else along with himself, why is it they never miss the other party but they are poor shots on themselves? You would think as close as they are to themselves that they couldn't miss. But they most generally do. They seem to be able to hit everybody they shoot at but themselves. Out here in Los Angeles we had a fellow who wanted his wife killed and instead of killing her himself, and then missing himself, why he hired another fellow to do it, and what do you think he give him, $1.20. One dollar and thirty cents, and he went in and shot her in her bed, and all he got for it was $1.20 and all in dimes, and they are giving him a trial. A community that would go to the expense of trying a Bird like that why that about all we deserve. There is some things that go beyond the law.

Then there is always a Column for Russia, for they will have been in some kind of devilment during the previous night. Last week they said that the World was plotting against them. They named the men that have it in for em. Well they will get all their people excited over that, and that will be in the papers for awhile till somebody thinks of something else. Brazil or the Argentine can stay on our front pages over a week at a time and then they have to have a pretty fair grade of Revolution to stick that long.

Hittler over in Germany we have had his column pretty vacant lately. He has just about run out of Gags. You just can't stay on that old page continually, the strain is too great, you can't think of enough things to do. Mussolini has come nearer doing it than anyone we ever had during our time. He jumps up and slaps some country down with a statement more often than any other man that ever lived. He gets on there once a week or more, if he is going good. He keeps France so busy denying and denouncing that they don't know what is all about. Bernard Shaw can make the front page any time he wants to express an opinion about anything, from Einstein's Theory, to the cultivation of Whiskers or Birth Control among Authors. He is the highest paid Author in the World yet he has given away more free stuff to the papers than any man that ever lived. For everything he ever said was news, and everything any other Author ever said was Publicity.

The poor old Editorial pages are just about passing out. Nothing that is not accompanied by pictures of the actual killing will interest anyone any more. The readers don't want advice any more. That's what the matter with this country; its been advised to death. An editorial might explain the right course for every one to pursue, but who wants to pursue it? An instructive Editorial is kinder like the lines they used to have at the top of the old Copy writing book, it was a fine sentence, and it sounded just like what you ought to do, but you just copied it and went on. A picture of Mary Garden getting off the boat is of more importance than what Opera she is going to appear in. Her and Old Tack out in Amarillo can get in an argument and make up and get the town more advertising than the low price of wheat can.

Then you have to leave room in there someplace for the "Columnist." Pretty near every paper is afflicted with a mess of us. We are flourishing through a certain reign of insanity that perhaps won't be permanent, and we are to any of us who take the whole thing serious. I think even Mr. Coolidge knows that as soon as the Country is thoroughly adjusted that we will be in some essential line, with a smaller recompense but an easier conscience. But with all its faults the Old Paper is our daily bread. Some times its burned, and sometimes not cooked to suit us, but we got to have it everyday, and its intelligence is always in keeping with its readers.

VERNON BENNETT KILLED BY HUNTERS

RESIDENT OF LEWISTON WAS FORMER GRAYLING CITIZEN

Vernon Bennett, 36, of Port Huron, who lost his life last week Thursday evening by shooting on the part of deer hunters, was at one time a resident of Grayling and was employed in the M. C. R. R. roundhouse. A special to the Bay City Times regarding the matter in Monday's edition says the following:

Mt. Nov. 24.—Four hunters, one the confessed slayer of Vernon Bennett, 36, Port Huron deer hunter, who was shot and fatally wounded near Lewiston Thursday evening, were released early this morning and all charges dropped, according to Sheriff Manson Marsh, Oscoda county. The four men, Chester Zimmerman, Midland, who admitted the shooting; Frank Krohn, Eugene Zelgrist, and Donald Foster, all of Richmond, claimed the slaying was accidental. They stated to authorities continuously, since first arrested early Saturday morning, that Zimmerman thought he was firing at a buck, and they thought Bennett's cry was a warning from a warden.

Mrs. Bennett, wife of the dead man, stated last night she was satisfied the shooting was accidental and did not intend to prosecute the four men. It was her decision that resulted in the release of the hunters.

W. P. Gallagher and Lee LaRue, both of Detroit, who were with Bennett when he was wounded, stated they believed it accidental. Dr. A. R. Wood, Lewiston, who attended Bennett, said that while he was dressing the man's wounds, Bennett said he believed it accidental.

The four have agreed to reimburse the county for the expenses incurred in investigating the case, also to pay the burial expenses of Bennett. They have also agreed to appear at any time they are wanted in connection with the case, Sheriff Marsh said.

Bennett was buried yesterday in the Lewiston cemetery following a simple funeral service. He was a former resident of Lewiston. Mrs. Bert Klock, his mother, and his family reside there.

SHERIFF BELIEVES HE HAS CLEW TO WOMAN'S DEATH

Sheriff Bobenmeyer believes he has in his possession a clew to the identity of the woman whose body was found by hunters last week Wednesday near the Manistee river.

On Tuesday morning C. S. Barber of Frederic brot in a woman's shoe that was found near where the body of the woman was found and it is believed that it was one that was worn by her.

The shoe is about size 8 or 3 1/2, black patent leather. The heel is about two inches high, plain toe and openwork across the ball of the foot and there is a black leather rosette on the right side. The inside of the heel has evidence of repair.

The shoe was found by hunters and the place marked and they in company with Mr. Barber returned and found that the spot where it was found was close to the place where the woman's body was found.

ATLANTA B.B. TEAMS HERE DEC. 4

Thursday night, December fourth, Remember the date and keep it open, for that's the time that Grayling officially opens the basketball season with a double header that should prove to be of interest to all the fans. Both the High School team and the All-City will swing into action against opposition from Atlanta, and this double attraction should be a fitting inaugural for the season of 1930-'31.

Coach Cushman has been drilling his squad of high school tossers for some time now and will be all set to send a well drilled team upon the floor when the hostilities start. While it is extremely hard to know just what the starting lineup will be there is some opportunity to speculate from the personnel of the first squad. Eleven men make it up and Coach Cushman probably won't know just who to send into battle until the last minute. Sherman, Knibbs, Pan-kow, Loskos, Sheehy, Billy Harrison, Norman Dawson, SanCartier, Jack LaGrow, Gothro, and Bud Sorenson make up the squad and from them the starters will be picked. One boy turned in his suit upon being sent back to the second squad for more development for future use, with the remark that he'd be on the first squad or none, and the process of elimination goes on. The process of evolving this year's edition of the Northern Lights is no easy one.

The All-City team is also coming along fast. Under the official title of "Lumberjacks" this squad is going to give Grayling plenty of publicity. Manager McNeven and Coach Cushman are directing their destinies. They take on Atlanta Independents as the other part of the double header and should find worthy opposition. The Atlanta team turned in a victory over Alpena's famous Indians as a starter for their season, so should not prove to be too easy opponents. Like the High School it is impossible to predict a lineup for the Lumberjacks, though it will probably be picked from the following list: Wylie, Purdy, Robertson, Rudy Harrison, Neal, Hendrickson and LaGrow.

The Grayling band will be out for the games to lend its services in making this a big night. Be there!

EDDIE CANTOR IN "WHOOPEE"

For "Whoopie" their first screen musical comedy, Samuel Goldwyn and Florenz Ziegfeld joined hands in gathering together one hundred of the most decorative young ladies to be found anywhere. And to be sure, they decided to look everywhere.

Eddie Cantor, as star of the picture, lent a hand. John Hartridge, Ziegfeld's artistic director, sat in. So did Busby Berkeley, who staged the dances. In London, Cedric Belfrage took measurements and asked proud young ladies to exhibit their pride. In New York, test-after-test was made. Miss Springfield, Ill., came to Chicago for a voice recording.

Goldwyn and Ziegfeld were asked for measurements. Just what proportions did the mythical perfect girl have? "None" was the answer. Every girl was different. Harassed and harried casting directors, professional and amateur, continued their feverish search—behind lunch counters, in dancing schools and the music academies, among the models of the famous New York, London and Paris couturiers, everywhere that beautiful women were suspected of holding forth.

In the course of the nine weeks consumed in making the search, the auditor (not the press agent) of the Goldwyn office reports that 1544 tests were received in Hollywood. Of them, 104 were accepted. Sixteen came from Broadway, professional showgirls. Among them and heading the list were Dorothy Knapp, labeled in the successive editions of Earl Carroll's "Vantages" as "the most beautiful girl in the world," and young Eleanor Hunt, whose work proved so impressive, that she was made Cantor's leading lady. Francine Benoit, who went to Paris three years ago as an Albertine Rasch dancer, returned as a "Whoopie" addition. Two young ladies, one an actress and another a church singer, came from England. Others came from New York, Chicago and other cities. More than fifty were selected in Hollywood.

Once assembled, the 100 young ladies had nothing to do for the next four weeks but sit day by day in the costumes, being fitted each one of them, for 12 changes of costume. Just as each girl had to perfectly fit her costume, so did each costume have to fit the color scheme of the 61 sets, all photographed in technicolor. Which merely goes to prove how $1,600,000 may be spent on a picture wisely. "Whoopie" will be shown at the Rialto theatre on Thursday and Friday, Nov. 27 and 28.

THE COURAGE TO BOOST

The fearless courage to boost our community as the best place in which to live, as the best place in which to transact business, as the one spot in all the world that we are proud to call home—is the brand of courage this community and every other community that wishes to grow and prosper must have.

Hand in hand with the spirit of boosting must go the desire for betterment and the dare to grasp opportunity as it comes.

Make "Work together, Boost together" Grayling's slogan.

WOMAN'S CLUB ENTERTAIN FOR DISTRICT CHAIRMAN OF STATE FEDERATION OF WOMAN'S CLUBS

Mrs. A. E. Mulder of Clare, District Chairman of State Federation of Woman's clubs and Mrs. Gerald Lamb of Farwell were guests of honor at a very delightful affair given by the Woman's club at Michelson Memorial church Monday evening. The ladies of the Goodfellowship club were guests also.

The program opened with a very pleasant duet sung by Miss Marie Schmidt and Miss Vella Hermann followed by two readings by Miss Virginia Jacques which were well received. Mrs. Roy Milnes sang a beautiful solo in her usual charming manner. Miss McAllister then finished the musical numbers with a very well rendered vocal solo.

Mrs. Emil Giegling, President of the club, then introduced Mrs. Mulder who gave a very inspiring talk on women who have been outstanding in the last few years and who have gained their prominence through struggle, or, as the speaker put it, "Having the last word" in accomplishing their different tasks in life. Mrs. Mulder's talk was very interesting and was given in a very pleasing manner. Mrs. Giegling also called on Mrs. Lamb who responded with a few remarks on what the Farwell club were doing.

Mrs. Louis Herbison and her committee then served the ladies with a very dainty and appetizing lunch.

The affair is one of the outstanding features of the club year for both the hostess club and their guests.

LADIES AID ENTERTAINED WITH A DELIGHTFUL TEA

As a memorial to Mr. and Mrs. Nels Michelson, the Ladies Aid of Michelson Memorial church entertained with a very pleasant tea in the parlor of the church Monday afternoon. The parlor had been arranged very attractively for the occasion, with lamps, easy chairs and baskets of greenery, littersweet and Michigan Holly. A long table with lace banquet cloth was spread at the lower end of the room. This was centered with a large silver basket filled with yellow and it was well attended. The Home Economics class sold refreshments for the benefit of their class funds.

TO DETERMINE AGE OF DEER

With a new method worked out for determining the age of a white-tailed deer, the Department of Conservation now has men at the Straits of Mackinac and at other places in the lower peninsula to make antler measurements on about a thousand or more of the bucks taken by hunters.

Through these measurements the Game Division expects to be able to determine the proportion of young medium, and old bucks killed this fall. From approximately 5,000 deer carried south across the Straits ferries each year, a thousand measurements taken at random, should give an average of the ages of the bucks killed in the upper peninsula. The tally will also be taken on various main roads and in hunters' camps so as to get a fair sample from both of the peninsulas.

The method of determining the approximate age of a deer was worked out by V. H. Cahalane, who for some time has been assigned to deer investigations. In addition to measurements on about 2,000 antlers taken last year at the Straits, Cahalane examined the skulls of several hundred deer and studied the teeth of each, made various skull measurements, counted the "points" and so forth. The teeth of domestic stock is the best single indication of the age of full grown individuals and the same thing is true of deer, but it is hard to get at the teeth when the carcasses are frozen. Cahalane found that the most practicable method of determining the age of a frozen buck, strapped to the running board of a car, was to take the average diameter of the main horn half an inch above the burr or button. He found out that on the average a buck about one and a half years old had antlers from two-thirds to three-quarters of an inch in diameter; when about two to two and a half years old a buck had antlers averaging nine-tenths to one and one-fourth inches in diameter, etc.

Using the measurements taken at the Straits last fall and applying the measurements to antlers taken in the field, Cahalane found that about 25 per cent of the deer were 15 months old; that about 25 per cent were 20 months old; about 25 per cent were 25 months old; and about 25 per cent were 30 months old.

Antler measurements taken from the skulls of the bucks killed each year in the Department can now check the age classes and a short-

THE Ford Motor Company's faith in the future of business, and especially in the future of the automobile, is evidenced by the fact that it is spending more than $60,000,000 for new plants and improvements in the United States and in foreign branches and associated companies.

The company has nine new plants under way throughout the world, while plans are being formulated for several others not yet announced. Wherever possible the new plants are being erected on sites accessible to both rail and water transportation so that, with each form of transportation supplementing the other, substantial savings will be effected.

Five of the new plants are in the United States, as follows:

Long Beach, California—This plant, recently completed to serve Southern California, has a capacity of 400 cars a day. Operating at capacity it employs 2,600 men.

Edgewater, New Jersey—The Edgewater plant, one of the company's largest assembly branches, has just been completed to serve New York City and surrounding territory. It has a capacity of 600 cars a day and employs 6,000 men.

Richmond, California—Work was started recently on a plant at Richmond, to be completed next year. It will have a capacity of 400 cars a day and will employ 2,400 men. It will supply cars to the San Francisco area.

Buffalo, New York—This plant will have a capacity of 400 cars a day and will employ 2,500 men.

Seattle, Washington—A site has been acquired and plans for a plant are being drawn.

A new manufacturing plant being erected at Dagenham, England, eighteen miles from London, to supplant the present works at Manchester, will be completed next year. It will be the largest automobile factory in the world outside the United States. Its capacity will be 200,000 cars a year.

An assembly and manufacturing plant is being built at Cologne, an assembly plant at Antwerp, and a service plant at Stockholm. Two branches—one at Perth, Australia, and one at Port Elizabeth, South Africa—were completed.

In addition the Ford Motor Company is spending several million dollars to increase the power capacity of the Rouge plant at Dearborn, Mich., and several million more in miscellaneous improvements.

Inside Information

Corn fritters may be made from left-over corn on the cob. To 4 table-spoons fresh corn add 1 teaspoon melted fat, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 egg, ½ cup milk, 1 cup flour, ½ teaspoon salt; mix to a batter and fry in deep fat.

Soft jelly can be used in many appetizing ways. Spread it on pancakes; on jelly roll; put it in pastry shells with a bit of whipped cream on top; fill apples that have been cooked tender in sirup with some of it; put a bit on such milk desserts as blanc mange, custard, Spanish cream, or bread pudding.

Very salty smoked finnan haddie is improved by cooking for 15 or 20 minutes in water which is then discarded and replaced with fresh water. To serve finnan haddie, pick the flakes from the bones after parboiling and add to a white sauce. One or two hard-cooked eggs in the sauce are an improvement.

Eggs for lunch or dinner may be sherried, curried, baked with cheese, served with ham, poached or fried, and with or without Hollandaise sauce; scrambled with bacon baked in tomato sauce, made into omelets, or baked as in a cheese soufflé. Leaflet 39-L, Eggs at Any Meal, is a publication which may be obtained free from the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It contains many recipes for such dishes as these and other ways of eggs for breakfast, in desserts, and in sauces.

The less tender and less expensive cuts of beef can be made into attractive and delicious dishes when they are cooked properly. Long, slow cooking and moisture are needed to make the meat tender. Pot roast, swiss steak, stews and similar dishes are among the ways of serving the less tender cuts.

Loin lamb chops cut double thickness—1½ to 2 inches thick—are particularly juicy and delicious when carefully cooked by searing on the outside and finishing under a reduced flame. They may be boned and rolled in strips of bacon before broiling under direct flame, over coals, or in a sizzling hot skillet.

The parent's job in training children in good food habits is only half done when it is well begun. There is always the possibility of the influence of playmates who are allowed to pick and choose what they will eat, or to spend money for sweets and other foods between meals. Good food habits, supervised carefully throughout childhood, make for good nutrition, which is the basis of sound physical development.

SOME AMERICAN OBSERVATIONS
By Jay Taylor

A prominent Englishman who has had much experience in dealing with the liquor problem, recently made some observations on our troubles in America. He thinks that those who favor the repeal of the 18th Amendment would help their cause by outlining a program for the sale of liquor that would save the country from the corrupt political influences of the retail dealers, brewers and distillers, for that he says was the greatest evil of the old system.

We are finding new evidence every day that as a nation, too, it pays to mind our own business.

Believe it or not—the largest consumer of maple sugar in the United States is the American Tobacco Company.

No administration in the history of the government has worked more intelligently and effectively in dealing with a serious business depression than the present administration at Washington, and the work is beginning to show results.

Our League of Nations advocates are still urging us to enter some agreement that will bind America to take sides against the aggressor; we decide who was the aggressor? Our information would come mainly from those news agencies that for years have specialized in misrepresenting the facts to the American people. Might we not find ourselves fighting on the wrong side? Why isn't it better anyway to let the Europeans settle their own quarrels.

One of Grayling's most recent converts to the ancient and honorable game of golf is in line for congratulations. M. A. Bates shot a 51 over the difficult and sporty Red Cedar course in Lansing last week end. Principal LaVere Cushman also played with him and while he did not break par he did win a respectable club on the ninth. Par for the course is 37.

He was brot to Grayling Saturday by the poor commissioner of Frederic and placed in the County Infirmary, but he was so extremely violent that he had to be put in the county jail. ### "GRUNDTVIGS" MINDEKIRKE

The Grundtvig Memorial church is being erected in Copenhagen, Denmark. This structure has created a great deal of interest far beyond the boundary of Denmark. Also in the United States, many men in different walks of life have taken notice of this unusual architecture.

N. F. S. Grundtvig, a Danish theologian, historian and poet who was a leader among his people in the nineteenth century, died Sept. 2, 1872. The impression he made on the Danish church life was to a considerable extent and has not been forgotten up to this day. In fact it is impossible for anyone to get in touch with the Danish Lutheran church of today without feeling the influence of Grundtvig. This man knew his people and his view on Christianity was accepted as sound and his message touched the heart of the Danes.

The treasure of thought displayed in the many hymns inherited from Grundtvig has also enriched the Danish Lutheran church in America. It is only natural therefore that a desire to help in the erection of this great memorial should come forth from the people of Danish descent in America and so it did. We learn that a manufacturer of organs, Mr. M. P. Moller, Hagerstown, Md., has pledged himself to donate an organ at the cost of $80,000 provided the church is completed in three years and the committee is now working hard to fulfill this requirement.

At the church convention held at Seattle, Wash., last June, it was voiced and agreed to urge all Danish Lutheran congregations to arrange for offerings in their respective churches. Sunday, Nov. 30, is the day set for this year and to continue with these offerings on the first Sunday in Advent for the next three years. Our local Danish church will join in this movement and request the cooperation of its members.

Frank Tetu was in West Branch Monday.

Mrs. Eva Reagan and daughter Elaine will visit relatives in Bay City Thanksgiving.

Miss Irene McKay of Mercy Hospital enjoyed the week end in Detroit, driving down with Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Matheson of Roscommon, who went to visit their daughter, Miss Faye, who is taking a special course in child nursing at the Children's Free Hospital there.

Ralph Gouine, meter tester for the Michigan Public Service company, spent the week end at his home in Cheboygan. Mr. Gouine has been in Grayling for several weeks testing meters.

Mrs. Saloma Simpson arrived in Grayling last Thursday and will make her home here for the winter, taking up her abode with Mrs. Almond Barber. Mrs. Simpson lived in Grayling for so long that this seems to be the only place she feels at home. She had been visiting in Flint and her son Harry of Monroe accompanied her here spending a few days hunting.

Miss Margaret Warren left Wednesday afternoon for Detroit to spend Thanksgiving with her mother.

Mrs. Chas. Tromble was hostess to the ladies of the Bridge club at an independent basket ball team and luncheon at her home Saturday afternoon. Three small tables were arranged very nicely for the affair, Miss Margaret Warren and Miss Jane Keyport assisting Mrs. Tromble with the serving. Bridge followed, with Mrs. A. J. Joseph holding the high score. This was the second of the series of the winter parties for the club.

Gaylord is to have boulevard lights for its main street. Underground wiring is being laid so that light poles may be removed from the street and thus remove these ugly disfigurements. Grayling has enjoyed boulevard lights for nearly two years. The Electric company has removed its poles and the only ones to remain are those of the Telephone company and they promise to do likewise just as soon as they can get their new office building constructed, whenever that will be.

The gentlemen also witnessed the M. S. C.-U. of D. game Saturday. Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Bates were guests at a very delightful affair given in their honor by Capt. and Mrs. Blake Graybill. ### PERRY GREENWOOD WRITES FREE SANTA STORY

The Bay City Times has been conducting a Santa Claus story contest and in their Sunday edition announced the winner to be Perry Greenwood, son of Rev. and Mrs. Greenwood of this city. Out of 944 letters submitted, Perry's was selected as the best, and he will receive a prize of $15 in cash for his efforts.

In reporting the contest the Times says in part:

"Perry Greenwood, 11, Grayling, won the first prize of $15, offered for the letter which should be judged the best. The thought expressed in Perry's letter is a nice one for Christmas, we think. Here it is: 'My daddy is a preacher and he tells me there is a Santa Claus. But he says that Santa is a spirit that gets into people's hearts and makes them send nice gifts and do kind things for people.'"

"And I know there is a real Santa for everybody in our house acts so happy at Christmas time and Santa Claus must come into our hearts as daddy says he does."

"And I'm hoping that Santa comes real soon now."

"I want him to find daddy and mamma with lots of money for when he is poor they help him buy things for us. Yes, Santa Claus editor, I know there is a real Santa Claus, for he always comes to our house."

Marion Parent, 8, Melvor, was awarded second prize.

USED WEHNE'S FARM FOR LAND-ING FIELD

Mr. E. P. Hurd of Detroit and his pilot, L. F. Barr, landed at the Grayling airport on Nov. 14th for refueling and then returned the next morning to the farm of Mr. Conrad Wehne near Eldorado, which they utilized as a landing field. This trip was made for the purpose of hunting deer, as the guests of Mr. Drinkhaus, Mr. Hurd's uncle, who maintains a cabin on the Aulsebrook.

The airplane used was a small low wing monoplane with a sixty horsepower engine, seats two people, and is manufactured in Detroit by Mr. Hurd.

Mr. Barr, the pilot, will perhaps be remembered by some of the citizens of Grayling as the man who entertained them with parachute jumps for the past three years while a member of the National Guard in camp on the airport. He expressed satisfaction with Mr. Wehne's farm as a landing field, saying it was equal to many airports he had seen.

Mr. Hurd took home a fine ten-point buck.

MICHIGAN NEWSPAPERDOM MOURNS DEATH OF VETERAN PUBLISHER

George L. Adams of Fowlerville, Who Lived His Religion Every Day, Goes to His Reward

Monday, November 3, brought universal sadness to the hearts of members of the Michigan Press association, when tidings of the death of George L. Adams winged its way from sanctum to sanctum and from home to home around the state. The Supreme Harvester had garnered the ripened grain, and surely it was a golden crop. No man ever held the highest honor and respect of all who knew him more than did George L. Adams, "Dad" Adams to all Michigan newspaperdom. That he was held in the same love and esteem by the people of his home town and community we know. It was demonstrated in 1925, when the people of the community joined with the Michigan Press association in celebrating the completion of half a century for Mr. Adams as owner and publisher of the Fowlerville Review, the home town paper. It was demonstrated again Friday, November 7, when newspaper people from various sections of the state joined again with the home town people in paying tribute, and this time in sadness and sorrow around his bier. Fowlerville is a better town because for a half a century George Adams lived and worked there. Michigan newspaperdom has better and cleaner newspapers, with higher ideals, because for fifty years their editors and publishers had George Adams to give them not only good advice but an upright and helpful example from which to pattern. No Michigan newspaper man was ever more sincerely mourned; none has ever received finer editorial tribute of love and respect than has been paid universally to the memory of George L. Adams. The aged mother should assuage her grief in the memory of having given such a son to the service of the world; the bereaved wife has had the richest of earthly rewards in a life companionship with so kindly and sincere a soul.—Michigan Bulletin.

UNIFORM POLICY FOR DEER HUNTING

Leelanau County has been closed to deer hunting for one year by the Conservation Commission. Reports were received that a few deer had moved into the county during the past summer. So far as is known, these are the first found in the county for about fifteen years. Within another year the Department of Conservation hopes that a definite and uniform policy will be adopted relative to deer hunting in all of the areas of the southern peninsula.

During the past summer and this fall the Game Division has been making an inventory of deer cover and the distribution of deer in lower Michigan. When this survey is completed, the Division expects to have the essential information on which to base a general policy to cover all of the deer territory of the lower peninsula, some of which is now closed for one or two years.

Farm Notes

It is poor economy to cut the tops out of sound, large trees to make Christmas trees. To do so destroys the value of the trees for timber.

Moth balls or naphthalene will prevent weevils or grain moths from injuring seed corn. Be sure the corn is thoroughly dry. Put it in a tight mouse-proof container, inclosing 1 pound of moth balls or naphthalene to each bushel of corn.

If the layers in the poultry flock are confined to the poultry house or if there is little sunshine in late fall and winter, it is well to add about 1 per cent of cod liver oil to the mash ration. Use 1 pint of oil to each 100 pounds of mash. Don't add oil to more than two weeks' supply of feed.

A horse needs from 10 to 12 gallons of water daily, a high-producing dairy cow as much as 25 to 40 gallons, a 2-year-old beef steer at least 10 gallons, and a hog from 1/2 to 1 1/4 gallons, depending on the feed. Sheep should get from 1 to 5 quarts a day, depending on the feed, the temperature, and the amount of dew or rain, if they are on pasture. A flock of 50 hens in laying condition requires from 4 to 6 quarts. Keep water for hogs and poultry where they can drink whenever they want it.

The most effective moisture-resistant coatings for wood are those containing aluminum leaf between coats of other materials such as paint, varnish, or the like, says the Forest Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, which has made hundreds of experiments in the last 15 years in a search for wood coatings that will exclude moisture. For exteriors, linseed-oil paint is effective for use with the aluminum leaf because it stands up well under weathering. For interiors, use a varnish, enamel, or paint with the leaf, says the Forest Service.

It is bad management to let the farm horse lose weight during the winter and then try to bring it back to normal by heavy feeding before spring work starts. Farm horses (except brood mares or growing stock) do well in winter on a ration consisting largely of the coarser hays, straw, or corn fodder. If the horse drinks plenty of water, it will increase the utilization of these dry roughages. Supplement the coarser roughages with a legume such as alfalfa, clover, soybean, or cowpea hay, but feed these sparingly. If no legume is fed, give a small amount of grain. One or two bran mashes a week or a little linseed meal each day helps to keep the horse's digestive system in good condition.

The "tuber-indexing" method of improving seed potatoes is recommended by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as the most effective way of eliminating diseased, weak, and low-yielding tubers from the seed intended for planting in the seed plot. Select tubers weighing from 7 to 9 ounces and number them for identification. Remove a seed piece or set from each one, preferably from the seed end, although any strong eye will do. Plant the sets in pots, a greenhouse bench, or hotbed. This is usually done in winter. Observe the plants carefully for signs of virus diseases such as the various mosaics, leaf roll, spindle tuber, giant hill, and yellow dwarf, and discard all seed that is diseased. Plant the remainder of the healthy indexed tubers in a seed plot for increase.

Ventilation for Stables
Do not use hay chutes as ventilating flues for the stable. In cold weather, warm moist air condenses on the hay in the mow and often makes it unfit for feeding and may possibly cause spontaneous ignition. Stables should be ventilated by insulated flues extending through the mow and connected to ventilator heads at the ridge. If there is likelihood of the hay heating, hay mows may be ventilated by slatted openings, open doors, and ventilators in the roof.

Profits in Christmas Trees
Christmas-tree growing offers the farmer whose farm is properly located with reference to market a side line that may bring in extra income at a time of year when it is particularly acceptable. It also provides a way for utilizing odd corners of tillable land not needed for other crops and small areas of waste land suitable for reforestation. Before starting a plantation, one should carefully consider the market for the trees and the competition from wild or natural-grown trees and from other plantations, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The Eastern and Central States generally offer the best opportunities. The ideal Christmas tree is symmetrical with a dense conical crown, is fragrant, and retains its foliage in a warm room. The spruces and firs combine many of these qualities. Select species that grow fairly rapidly.

The Dribbler
A certain coach had a football team. The captain was an Abyssinian. His fullbacks were a Turk and an Armenian; the halfbacks included a Syrian, a Greek, a Persian, a Turk, a Persian, and a Copt from Egypt. When asked by someone how he handled a team like that, he replied: "I succeed when I have taught each member how to pass."

And that leads us to observe that the "Dribbler" who wants to go down the field dribbling the ball so that he can have all the glory for himself, is the team's greatest handicap. And what spells defeat for a football team is the same factor that paralyzes the success of the Christian church, and the community and the world. The Dribbler individual or the Dribbler nation has always been a curse. Success can never be achieved until the Dribbler quits dribbling and learns how to pass.

Of course, this suggests a line of St. Paul, penned to a group of Dribblers in the church at Corinth—"The hand hath no right to say to the foot, I have no need of thee."

Waxing inlaid linoleum at regular intervals makes it last longer.

MAY KILL MINK AFTER MUSK-RAT SEASON

While an order of the Conservation Commission forbids the trapping of mink at any time other than during the open muskrat trapping season, it does not forbid the taking of mink by any other ordinary means at any other time.

Guns, dogs, or any usual method of killing mink may be employed after the last of the zoned muskrat season closes, December 31. However, a permit must be obtained to carry a gun when there is no open season on protected game.

(One conviction has been reported for trapping mink before the opening of the muskrat season.)
